Bernhard Langer, 32-31 – 63 (-9)

- Three-time Insperity Invitational champion, Langer tied the tournament course record at 9-under 63, his best score recorded on both the PGA TOUR and PGA TOUR Champions at TPC Woodlands. His back nine 31 ties for third lowest in tournament history.
- His opening round marks the 10th time he has shot 63 or better on PGA TOUR Champions. His lowest round recorded was 62 four-times, most recently the 2016 Chubb Classic.
- In 10 starts at the Insperity Invitational, Langer has two top-5 finishes in addition to his three victories (2007, 2008, 2014). His worst finish came in 2013 when he opened with a 77 and finished T25.
- Two of the three times Langer led in the opening round he would go on to claim the title (2007, 2014).
- This marks the 30th time Langer has led/co-led after the first round, and the first time since the 2017 Dominion Energy Charity Classic. He is 15-for-30 in converting those leads into victories.
- Langer entered the week off two runner-up finishes and ranks No. 5 on the Charles Schwab Cup money list.

- Should Langer go on to win, it would be his 12th straight season with a victory, setting a PGA TOUR Champions record. His current streak of 11 consecutive years is tied with Hale Irwin for most all-time.

First-Round Lead Notes

- Today's opening round scoring average of 70.486 is the lowest in the tournaments history at The Woodlands Country Club. In the past 10 years, this is just the third time the first-round scoring average has recorded under par. This is the second-lowest average of the year (Chubb Classic, 70.316).

- This season, a first-round leader/co-leader has won two of the eight tournaments. Most recently, Mark Calcavecchia won the Boca Raton Championship in wire-to-wire fashion.

Scott Dunlap, 31-35 – 66 (-6)
